UC Prompt #1

“I was forced to socialize with other people because of that, not having anyone in my class is the best thing to happen to me.”

“My group of friends
now is probably the best I’ve had. I’m very thankful for them for
all they have helped me
through.”

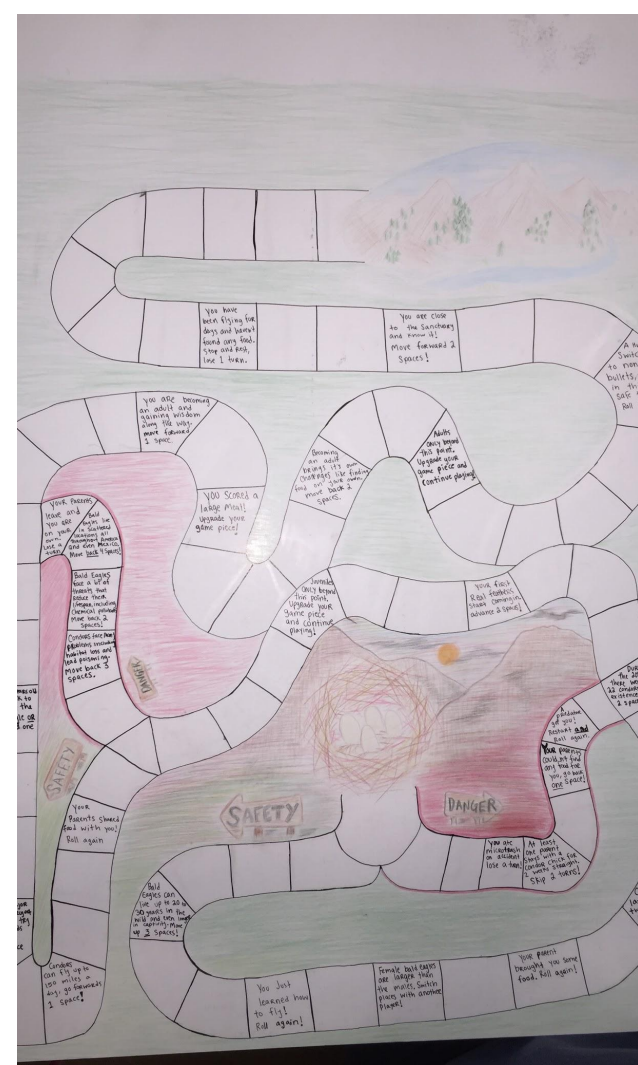

More
friends.

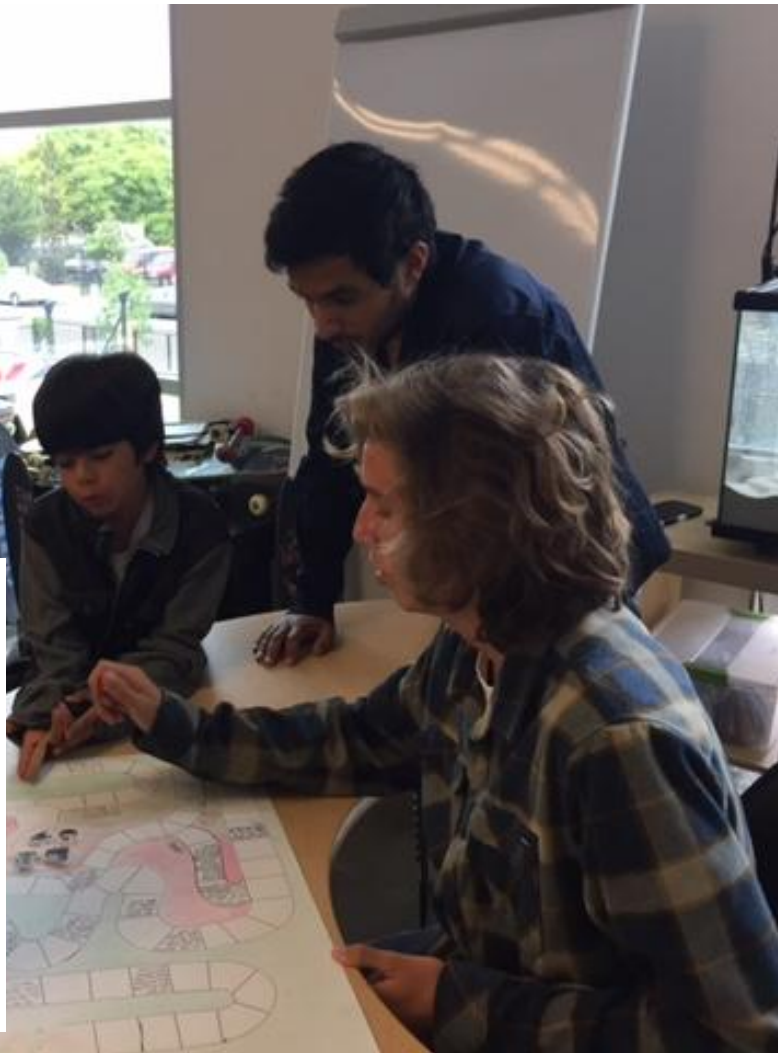

“I also talk to a lot
more people than I did before which makes me feel closer to my grade.”

UC Prompt #2

“My group made a board game designed to teach kids about California condors. My groupmates and I worked well together but we lacked motivation.”

“The fourth graders told us about how much they learned and how much fun they had. Our board game and our lesson were a huge success.”

college application process

I have absolutely no clue what I am doing, It's been like that for three years now and it's only going to be going downhill from here.

The thing I am most nervous for is not getting accepted into a college because I do absolutely nothing.

I am also really nervous because i'm going to have no friends. I have been more social but still going to a completely new place knowing no one scares me.

I'm excited because it's something new, I get to learn more and I get to meet new people (eventually).
